Acknowledgement of Country

The City of Ballarat acknowledges the Traditional Owners of our land, the Wadawurrung and Dja Dja Wurrung People. Within our council boundaries, the Wadawurrung People are the Traditional Owners south of the Great Dividing Range and, to the north, the Dja Dja Wurrung People are the Traditional Owners. We recognise their continuing connection to the land and waterways. We pay our respects to their respective Elders past, present and emerging and extend this to all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander People.

Executive summary

The years ahead will be pivotal for our city as we emerge from a pandemic that has impacted the way we live, travel, work and study.

The marketing of our city is fundamental to Ballarat's growth, not only within the visitor economy, but more broadly across the pillars of liveability and investment.

Marketing can inspire people to believe in Ballarat, and there is plenty to believe in. As a city, we are perfectly placed to leverage the opportunities that lie ahead.

Over the last 18 months, the city has worked together to align on the visitor economy's strategic direction by developing the Traveller Experience Plan 2021–2030, the Ballarat Events Strategy 2018–2028 and the Visitor Economy Strategy 2021–2024.

To round out this quartet of documents, we are pleased to present the Destination Marketing Plan 2021–2024.

The plan's objective is to deliver creative marketing that amplifies Ballarat's unique identity and supports the city's aspirations of being a place that is innovative, courageous, inspiring, and caring.

During the document's development, three strategic marketing priorities have been identified based on the work that has gone before. These are:

Continued investment in Ballarat's brand evolution

Invest in innovative marketing to showcase Ballarat's unique traveller experiences and connect with our two priority tourism audience segments

Focus on our community as hosts to greater leverage Ballarat's visiting friends and visiting relatives market

Strategic foundations

The purpose

This Destination Marketing Plan lays the foundations for how our city's identity is positioned and promoted over the next three years. It captures the aspirations outlined in the Ballarat Prosperity Framework, Traveller Experience Plan 2021-2030 and the Visitor Economy Strategy 2021-2024 to inform, guide and evaluate the decisions we make, and sets out a roadmap of the priorities and actions we will deliver as we navigate Ballarat's post-COVID road to recovery.

The adoption of the aforementioned plans is a significant step forward for Ballarat – we, as a city, are now aligned on what makes Ballarat unique, understand the audiences we need to speak to and agree on the actions to fulfill the opportunities that lie ahead. This work sets the scene for how the City of Ballarat's Marketing Team can deliver efficient, strategically led and creatively inspired work.

This plan acknowledges that we are responsible for building on, and communicating, the existing strengths of the city's rapidly changing identity.

The plan also recognises the importance of our local community and the role we play in working to instil pride and equip our community with the tools and confidence to help advocate on the city's behalf.

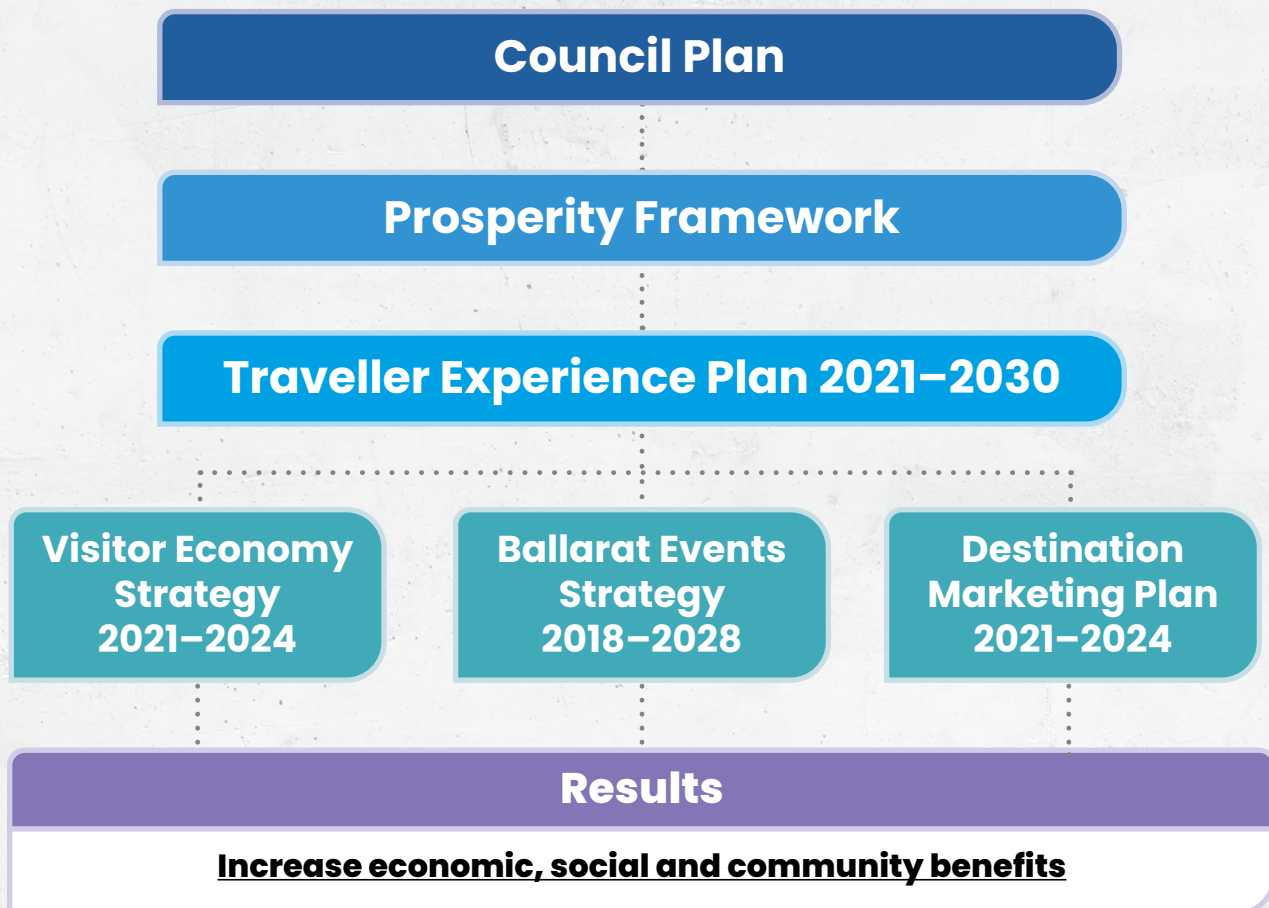

We'll do this by sharing stories about our city to convince future travellers of our unique identity, and by leveraging Ballarat's strong visiting friends and visiting relatives market. We want travellers to feel how we do about our region and fall in love with it, just like the people who call it home.

As Victoria's inaugural Top Tourism Town for 2021, this plan sets us up to build on the work that's gone before to position Ballarat as a worthy place to visit, visit again and to stay.

Context of visitor economy planning

Ballarat's unique selling proposition

Reflect on our past, revel in our present
and imagine our future

Core attribute pillars:

Ballarat's unique point of difference as a destination is defined by the intersection of two overarching attribute pillars. These pillars are at the root of our identity and act as anchor points for the types of product and experiences we offer.

1. Cultural and creative

A fusion of cultural and creative experiences crafted by exceptional artisans, makers, designers, creators and performers.

2. Contemporary heritage

Experiences that are created against the rich tapestry of Ballarat's history and architecture.

Key attributes:

The key attributes can add value by building on Ballarat's uniqueness in a way that is authentic and tangible.

- Food and drink
- Sporting and active
- Accessible facilities
- Accommodation
- Greater region
- Touring routes
- Retail
- Nature and sustainability
- Events

Over the next three years, we will focus on telling the stories that articulate Ballarat's core pillars and key attributes.

Responding to current plans & strategies

Traveller Experience Plan 2021-2030

To truly amplify our unique identity we need to celebrate and share the experiences that set us apart.

If we put these points of difference at the heart of delivering destination marketing, we will inspire pride in locals and make Ballarat a compelling destination for visitors.

The Destination Marketing Plan will deliver on the Traveller Experience Plan in the following ways:

- 1. Identify segment target markets and develop a customer journey that identifies touch points and opportunities to actively reach them
- 2. Invest in marketing to underpin and build equity in our unique selling proposition to help shift the perception of Ballarat
- 3. Capitalise on a number of opportunities highlighted throughout the plan to grow Ballarat's reputation as an enticing place to visit and live
- 4. Facilitate community tourism by leveraging Ballarat's strong visiting friends and visiting relatives market
- 5. Confirm the long-term brand strategy

Visitor Economy Strategy 2021-2024

To support recovery and re-ignite the visitor economy, a number of short-term tactical actions were outlined in the Visitor Economy Strategy.

Delivering on these actions will contribute to growing visitation spend and increase market share of regional Victorian visitation.

The Destination Marketing Plan will deliver on the Visitor Economy Strategy in the following ways:

- 1. Express the identity of Ballarat through accessible assets and campaigns that drive word of mouth
- 2. Build community pride and invest in community as hosts, partners and experience entrepreneurs through the development of a major visiting friends and visiting relatives campaign and initiatives to develop community understanding of the benefits
- 3. Share knowledge, assets and resources to amplify our city's promotion through regular updates to industry
- 4. Support product developed under agreed seasonal themes

Ballarat Prosperity Framework

As detailed in the City of Ballarat's Prosperity Framework, the people of Ballarat want to move into a future where they see Ballarat being defined by the four values outlined below. By aligning our strategy with these, we will ensure our marketing outputs are authentic.

Our residents want to be seen as...

1. Innovative
2. Courageous
3. Inspiring
4. Caring

What does the aspiration for our city look like through a marketing lens?

Innovative

- Creatively amplify the narrative and stories of our people and places
- Support and empower industry to talk about Ballarat and share content of other experiences beyond their own

Courageous

- Empowering our locals to become ambassadors for Ballarat
- Leverage our key attributions to increase awareness, visitation and yield among our primary audiences

Inspiring

- Impress potential visitors by promising a breadth of opportunity
- Effectively differentiate Ballarat from other destinations

Caring

- Embrace and celebrate our diverse communities and cultures
- Support industry to align their products and marketing to our priority audiences

Insights that shaped our thinking

The follow pages provide an overview of the data and insights that shaped the Traveller Experience Plan 2021-2031 and Visitor Economy Plan 2021-24, and reiterates the importance of understanding our current and potential visitors.

The City of Ballarat receives regular visitation data from research agencies such as Tourism Research Australia and datainsights, with these insights informing planning, marketing and investment decisions across all business units.

The Marketing Team also invests in a number of other independent research projects.

Fundamental in the development of the Destination Marketing Plan 2021-24 is the recent Quantum Market Research that was undertaken to identify a clear and reliable profile of Ballarat's current and potential visitor base.

The research clearly articulates two priority audiences that offer the greatest potential for Ballarat, what their motivators are for regional travel and what channels we need to focus on to deliver messages to them.

It also identified that there are still fundamental challenges around perceptions that Ballarat is an uninspiring tourism destination.

These insights will guide our creative development and marketing of Ballarat over the next three years.

Also guiding the development of campaign creative and media buying strategies over the course of this plan will be regular campaign health tracking.

During the development of this plan it has also become apparent further research is required to better understand Ballarat's visiting friends and visiting relatives market to truly leverage this audience. For this reason, additional audience research has been earmarked.

Visits inspired by residents

Ballarat boasts a population of almost 110,000, which continues to grow at a rate of 1.85% per annum*.

With more and more people calling Ballarat home each year, we recognise residents will play a key role as ambassadors to promote the Ballarat experience to their friends and family.

Tourism Research Australia data provides regular snapshots of the travel behaviour and characteristics of visitors to Ballarat, including insights into the visiting friends and visiting relatives (VFR) market.

While the data, to an extent, shows us the differences between VFR and non-VFR visitors and measures the impact of this type of traveller, there is still much to learn about these audiences.

We acknowledge this is a market with potential and warrants further research to better understand and target.

Priority tourism audience segments

Audience research was undertaken to identify a clear and reliable profile of the current and potential visitor base for Ballarat.

It outlines motivations and visitation behaviours, and gives us an understanding of perceptions and attitudes towards Ballarat's existing and prospective future visitation offering.

The research identified four key audience segments for Ballarat, with Active Regional Explorers and Regional Fledglings identified as new primary targets. Relative to other markets, the impact of destination marketing will have shorter lead time to attract these engaged and flexible primary markets.

Based on recommendations from the research, we will focus our marketing efforts on these two primary markets by:

Prioritising younger Active Regional Explorer families

Families with pre-school and young primary aged children are more readily satisfied by what Ballarat has to offer. By contrast, once they pass age eight, Ballarat can't consistently deliver to the needs of a mature Active Regional Explorer family.

Prioritising more sophisticated Regional Fledglings

Regional Fledglings with a taste for dining and culture are far more likely to convert to visitation than those who can't see past the beach. Likewise, those travelling as a couple are more likely to be in-market longer than larger social groups.

For more information on this research, see the Traveller Experience Plan 2021-2030.

Active regional explorers:

Travelling in regional Victoria is a regular part of our life.

Who are they?

Spend the most per night and spend more nights away than any other segment.

- Skew younger, often at family life stage
- Metro Melbourne suburbs
- Educated, curious and enthusiastic.

What defines them?

- Engaged across channels, travel extensively and widely, participate in a broad range of activities
- Seek out enriching experiences; aspire to more than just 'relaxation'
- Do not conform to one trip 'type', they arrange different itineraries to suit different needs.

Visitation habits:

- Take weekend and extended trips, typically touring to cover more than one activity
- Above average spend, prioritise recreation in their budget. Can include VFR spends
- Engage in one or more outdoor pursuits, often cycling, fishing, or getting into national parks.

Engaged by:

- Constant lookout via all channels for what is new or different in regional Victoria
- More likely to engage with art, culture, history and attend structured ticketed attractions.

Regional fledglings:

We can find cool things to do by leaving the city and getting out there.

Who are they?

Make more frequent day and short overnight trips than other segments. More likely to consider Ballarat in-scope for a daytrip (if metro-based). Are flexible to consider and convert to visiting Ballarat (as well as other destinations).

- Young singles and couples may travel as groups of friends
- Metro-based and urbanised tastes
- Following emerging trends, not their parents' example.

What defines them?

- Explore though visitor-oriented producers, events/festivals, local operators, etc
- Food and wine focus and have the budget to support it
- Lighter touch in the outdoors, may camp or bushwalk but it's principally a social endeavour.

Visitation habits:

- Travel often, but typically on short weekend breaks or daytrips
- Emphasis on AirBNB-type accommodation
- Trips commonly based around a half-day hike/bushwalk.

Engaged by:

- Social media, review sites, and official tourism/destination sites
- Modern dining, wineries, craft beer, music events/festivals, novelty, and intrigue.

Marketing opportunities

Overarching destination marketing challenges and recommendations

Recent tourism audience research conducted by Quantum Market Research identified a series of challenges and opportunities that will inform our planning over the next three years.

Current challenges limiting conversion to visitation

Nature is important

The vast majority of visitors rate spending time in the outdoors as important. Ballarat may be an urbanised, city destination, but it is a major limiter if it does not also satisfy the need to spend time in natural surrounds. To fully maximise this offering, a full audit of the region's nature-based product, photography and signposted trails is required.

Ballarat does not feel like a getaway

Predominantly urban based, and at a time poor lifestage, even those who travel regularly want every trip to deliver 'a getaway'. Broadly this is characterised as 'somewhere different from home, where I can be inspired to switch off'. Priority segments lack depth of appreciation for Ballarat and think it's blankly urbanised (often compared to Melbourne's outer suburbs).

Ballarat does not have any surprises in store

It's common for target segments, particularly those who have a distant memory of visiting Ballarat, to underestimate what the city has to offer. Importantly, although they realise their familiarity may be limited, nothing about their perceptions leads them to feel intrigued about what they don't know. Asked to imagine they've been dropped on the main street, potential visitors reflect they'd have no inspiration in mind besides looking at old buildings and heading to a café (something they could do in Melbourne anyway).

Lack of things to do

Adding to the challenge is the perceived lack of things to do between meals and the closure of businesses on weekends that adds to the feeling of an empty CBD, especially on Sundays.

Recommendations to increase primary target audience visitation

Promise breadth of opportunity

Ballarat lacks a mainstream visitation driver. The solution is for audiences to implicitly believe they'll find what they need to compile a great trip when they get there. By all audiences, the Visit Ballarat website is evaluated as an excellent resource to achieve this – and driving more traffic towards it is implicit to converting consideration to visitation.

Promote Ballarat's established scene of authentic and down-to-earth producers

Exploring regions through food and drink experiences is a key driver of travel intention for all audiences. Being a heritage regional centre, the link between Ballarat and artisan produce is intuitive. Creating intrigue through food/drink is an effective way to prompt a more thorough investigation of Ballarat as a place to visit, ties in with Ballarat's broader cultural offering, and challenges misconceptions of Ballarat as a 'characterless' regional town.

Promote shareable, picturesque moments which convey a getaway

For all audiences, this style of communication is a short-cut to convey newness, liveliness, and escape, addressing Ballarat's key barriers in doing so. For primary target segments in particular, full trips start from an initial source of inspiration, often through word of mouth, an image or simple description shared via social media.

Weave nature into the brand story

It is a major impediment that Ballarat is not perceived to deliver any kind of nature experience. Perhaps exacerbated under COVID conditions, all audiences expect fresh air/walk/sightseeing outdoors as a part of their travel, even when that travel is centred around an urbanised or indoor activity.

Customer journey mapping & opportunities

Journey mapping is a visual storyline of every engagement our priority audience segments have with us. It gives us a better understanding of what motivates our visitors and indicates how they plan, book and execute their trips. These insights will inform the development of marketing content.

Opportunities

- Regional Fledglings are more likely to dine at a wide variety of venue types – from cafes and low-mid tier restaurants, to breweries and high-end restaurants
- Regional Fledglings are highly engaged social media users. For this group, Instagram is the dominant trigger of initial visitation intention. Even more influential, they follow each other and draw inspiration from user-generated content. Consciously or not, trips can even be based on being 'Instagram-worthy'.
- Regional Fledglings in particular make last minute decisions. It's not uncommon to commit to a trip at the very last minute.

Leveraging federal and state marketing

The City of Ballarat's Marketing Team is the lead destination marketing body for Ballarat, working in partnership with advocacy partner Ballarat Regional Tourism, industry and Visit Victoria to promote Ballarat and surrounds as the ideal place to visit.

The role of national, state and local destination marketing is represented as follows:

TOURISM AUSTRALIA

Lead international and domestic destination marketing by encouraging tourists and Australians to explore the country.

Current campaigns

There's still nothing like Australia (Destination Australia)
Be the first (New Zealand)
Holiday here this year (Domestic)

VISIT VICTORIA

Lead Melbourne and Victoria destination marketing by building emotional connection with intrastate, interstate and international (when relevant) markets. Their key objective is to position regional Victoria as an ideal short break destination.

Current campaigns

Stay close, go further (regional campaign)
Get Set (interstate campaign)

CITY OF BALLARAT

Leverage the work Visit Victoria is doing and lead Ballarat's destination marketing by promoting product that taps into the drivers of travel for our primary audiences.

Current campaigns

Made of: Ballarat
Future VFR campaign

INDUSTRY

Individual businesses leverage the City of Ballarat's destination marketing and promote assets available to entice visitors travelling to Ballarat to visit their business.

Leveraging current campaign architecture

The uncertainty that unfolded as a result of the global pandemic was like nothing Ballarat has ever faced before. However, it was also a time that brought the city's leaders together. This collaboration led to the development of a whole-of-city identity and brand architecture which has been outlined below.

As we begin to focus on the road to recovery, it is going to be important we test the work that's gone before and establish a brand evolution that can carry Ballarat into a post-COVID world.

Ballarat Content Hub

The city-wide landmark, BALLARAT, was created in 2021 to establish a unified and consistent way to sell the city, which included the launch of ballarat.com.au – a central site showcasing the city as a place to visit, live, work, invest and study in. The strategic work targets consumers considering a regional lifestyle by showing them the best of Ballarat, and activates Ballarat businesses as brand advocates by providing a content hub with free photography, brand marks and videography.

Made of: Ballarat (tourism)

Based on the recommendations from the recent audience segmentation research, as well as previous brand health tracking insights, a new strategic approach for the re-launch of the Made of Ballarat campaign was developed in 2021. The campaign narrative aims to position Ballarat as an active playground made of a multitude of experiences that celebrate the region's many riches: food, craft beer, natural surroundings, art and culture.

We Are Ballarat (community)

Tourism data continues to profile the importance of the visiting friends and visiting relatives market for domestic overnight travel to Ballarat.

The We Are Ballarat campaign was created in 2021 in an effort to instil in the community the sector's importance and to encourage them to invite their friends and family to Ballarat. An annual visiting friends and visiting relatives marketing plan has been developed to continue this push, with deliverables outlined on page 38.

Leveraging Ballarat's seasonal themes

The Visitor Economy Strategy 2021-2024 identified the importance of the development of whole-of-city seasonal themes to be used as a mechanism to align product and marketing.

Based on conversations with key stakeholders, the following thematic approach has been developed to assist build campaigns and develop product and events around the four seasons: summer, autumn, winter and spring.

These seasonal themes are owned by the entire city and are intended to help develop and deliver product and marketing to strengthen Ballarat's unique point of difference.

Immerse

Our summers are filled with music, outdoor adventure and making the most of the longer days by reconnecting with friends and family.

DISCOVERY | OUTDOOR EVENTS | TRAILS | DINING OUTDOORS | FRUIT PICKING COLD BREWS & COCKTAILS

Reflect

Throughout autumn, we reflect on our past and think about our future – we ponder the city that has shaped us and dream of the creatives carrying our city forward.

FESTIVALS | IMMERSION | MEET THE MAKER | CELLAR DOORS | PADDOCK TO PLATE | MASTERCLASSES & WORKSHOPS

Emerge

Spring is a season for rebirth, rejuvenation, revitalisation, and emerging creativity. As the winter gloom withers away, and the flowers bloom for a new day, Ballarat too prepares to emerge for a season on renewal.

FLOWERS | NATURE | WINE | CREATIVITY PICNICS | RELAX | LOCAL PRODUCE | MARKETS & FARMGATES

Embrace

In winter our senses are heightened. It's all about embracing the drama of our cold environment and the warmth of our experiences.

COSY ACCOMODATION | WARMING DRINKS | FROST & SNOW ICE | COLOUR | FIRE

Mission statement

Deliver innovative marketing that amplifies Ballarat's unique identity and supports the city's aspirations of being a place that is innovative, courageous, inspiring, and caring.

Strategic priorities & actions

The Destination Marketing Plan has three priorities. Each priority will inform the basis of a series of deliverables that respond to and support the shared ambitions for Ballarat, its residents and those we host.

- 1 Continued investment in Ballarat's brand evolution
- 2 Invest in innovative marketing to showcase Ballarat's unique traveller experiences and connect with our two priority tourism audience segments
- 3 Focus on our community as hosts to greater leverage Ballarat's visiting friends and visiting relatives market

In March 2021, we launched brand Ballarat, our all-encompassing shared destination identity. This identity reflects our city as a place to live, work, invest, study and visit.

In doing so, we began the journey of evolving our brand architecture. With brand Ballarat now in existence, we will review and update Ballarat's master destination brand framework, including a review of the Visit Ballarat brand.

Ballarat.com.au was launched in 2021 as a key part of our place branding, bringing together visit, live, work, study and invest messaging. As an important concierge platform, we will continue to invest in ballarat.com.au and attracting the most valuable audiences to the site.

We will look to partners – existing and new – to amplify the Ballarat brand. This ranges from working with industry leaders, including Sovereign Hill, to public relations opportunities and partnering with content producers.

And we will continuously expand the Ballarat Content Hub, developing impactful, on-brand photography, videos and supporting marketing assets for industry use at no cost.

Invest in innovative marketing to showcase Ballarat's unique traveller experiences and connect with our two priority tourism audience segments

Convincing future travellers of our unique identity will be our challenge and opportunity. But it's a challenge we will embrace.

We have a clear and reliable profile of the current and potential future visitor, their drivers of travel and how to reach them. Now we must carve out our position in the destination marketplace and shift any perception that Ballarat cannot fulfill the needs of potential travellers.

We'll do this by curating marketing creative, itineraries and stories to showcase a magnitude of experiences that warrant spending more time in Ballarat.

We'll remain flexible and invest in marketing that allows us to respond to the ever-changing landscape of, and sentiment towards, intrastate visitation.

We want people to learn Ballarat has a breadth and diversity of experiences by shifting from general brand messaging to one of storytelling. We want travellers to feel how we do about our region and fall in love with it, just like the people who call it home.

To do this we will deliver marketing activities that speak to our priority audiences and promote Ballarat's uniqueness in a way that is authentic and tangible.

And we will position Ballarat as a worthy place to visit, visit again and to stay by developing and nurturing relationships with visitors long after their initial visit.

Focus on our community as hosts to greater leverage Ballarat's visiting friends and visiting relatives market

The visiting friends and visiting relatives tourism segment is a significant, and yet under researched, part of the visitor economy. In Ballarat, they accounted for 40-45 per cent of total visitation for the last five years (NVS, YE Mar 21, TRA).

With a steady population growth expected across the city, the number of residents who will have visitors coming to stay is only going to grow.

The key to understanding and maximising the value of this market lies in developing profiles of these visitors and, more importantly, their hosts. We will do this by investing in significant audience research to identify the best ways to influence the decision making of these groups.

Existing channels that are used to speak to local audiences will be further developed, and targeted content and campaigns will be delivered with the goal of arming Ballarat residents with the information they need to become ambassadors for the city they love. Additionally, digital tools will be developed specifically to assist locals invite their loved ones to visit, including the creation and promotion of the 'Ballarat Pass' which delivers another promotional tool to drive growth in this area.

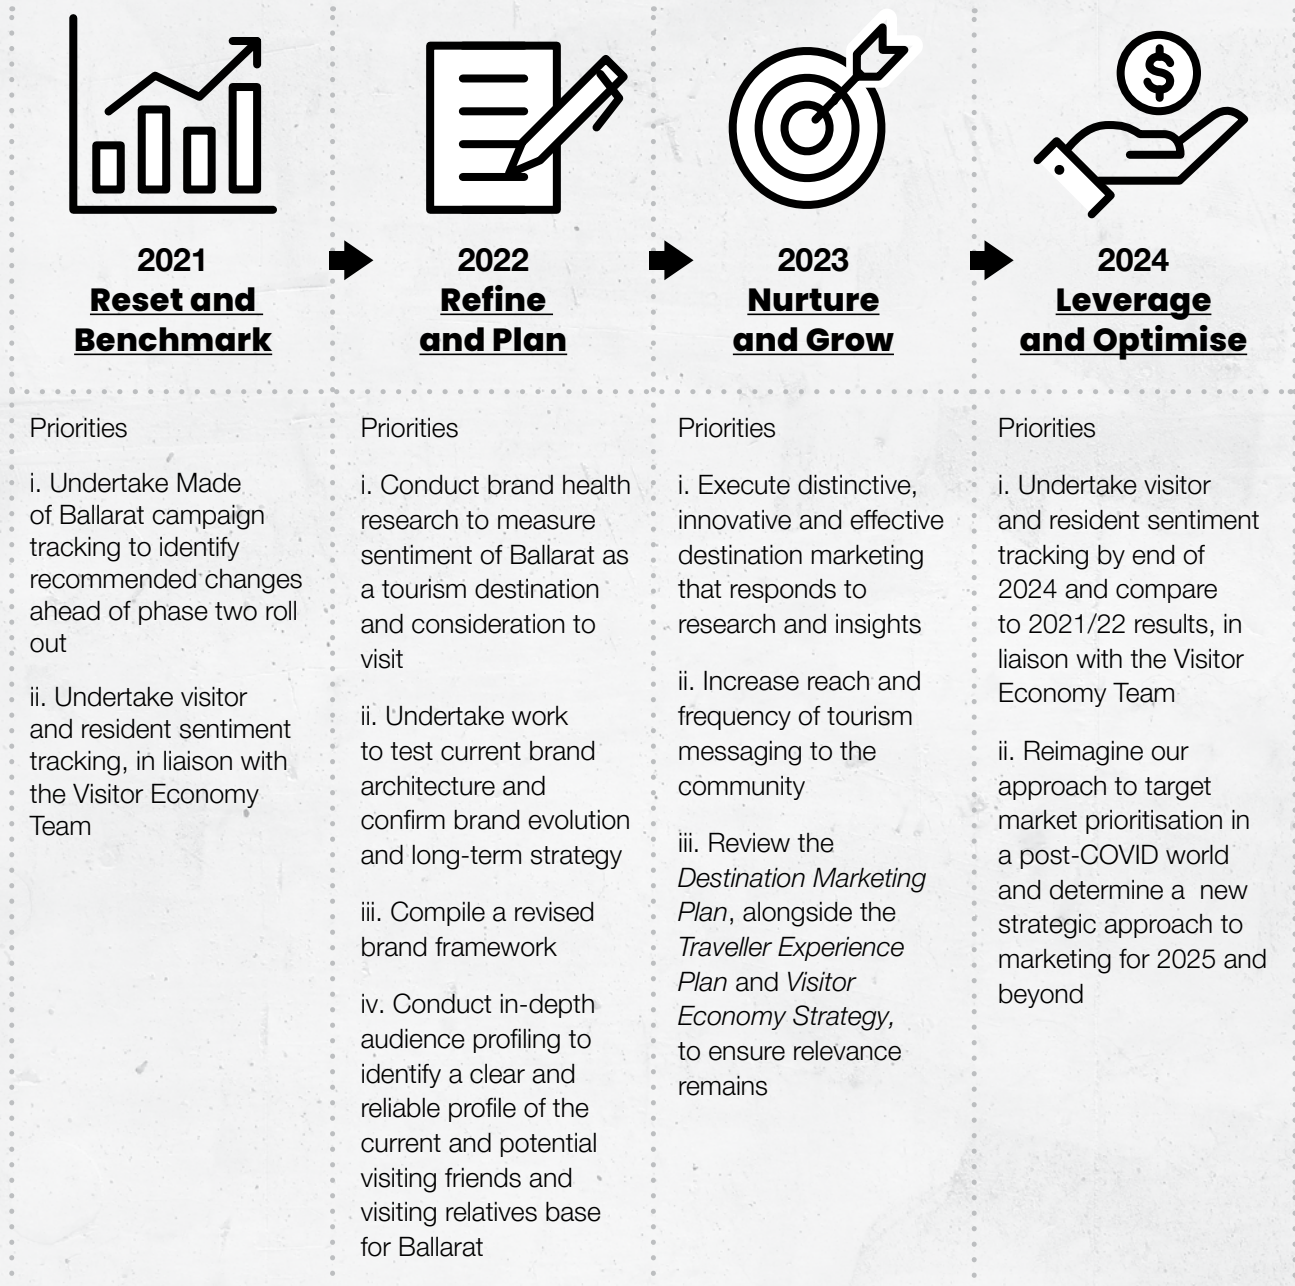

We know Ballarat's residents aspire for the city to be known as an innovative, inspiring, caring, and courageous place, and our activities aim to help them spread this message far and wide.
